Frequently Asked Questions

General

Q: I did not receive an Installation and Operation Manual with my ASD. How can I get one?

A: The G9 ASD Quick Start Guide and the G9 ASD Installation and Operation Manual can be downloaded from our website at www.toshiba.com/inf.

Q: Does Toshiba offer training courses?

A: Yes. Training courses are offered at TIC headquarters in Houston, Texas. There are two types of training — maintenance and repair (nominal fee) of hands-on experience in their respective fields and are continually being trained on new products. Students will gain valuable experience on the equipment and troubleshoot real faults that may be incurred during normal ASD setup, operation, and maintenance. For a listing of upcoming training courses or to register, visit our website at www.toshiba.com/ind and click on the training tab.

Q: Where can I find additional information about Toshiba International Corporation (TIC) and TIC products?

A: A qualified person is one who has the skills and knowledge about the construction, installation, operation, and maintenance of the equipment a
